If the student is a citizen, he must give you documentation of his citizenship status. If it verifies that he is a citizen, you can disburse aid to him. Unlike the case of eligible noncitizens, you don't submit the documents to the DHS or any other agency for verification, but you do need to keep a copy in the student's file. The student should also contact the Social Security Administration to have it update its database—something all naturalized citizens should do—but he doesn't have to do this to receive aid. See “Other documentation” below.

If the student is an eligible noncitizen, she must submit a correction, which must include the Alien Registration Number or A-Number. When the correction is sent in, the CPS will attempt a match with DHS records to confirm the student's status.

Other documentation

If a student must prove his status as a citizen or national, you decide what documents are acceptable. The Department doesn't specify them, but here are documents you might choose to use:

- A copy of the student's birth certificate showing that she was born in the United States, which includes Puerto Rico (on or after January 13, 1941), Guam, the U.S. Virgin Islands (on or after January 17, 1917), American Samoa, Swain's Island, or the Northern Mariana Islands, unless the person was born to foreign diplomats residing in the U.S.
- A U.S. passport, current or expired, except limited passports (which are typically issued for short periods such as a year and which don't receive as much scrutiny as a regular passport when applying). In the case of nationals who are not citizens, the passport will be stamped “Noncitizen National.”
- A copy of Form FS-240 (Consular Report of Birth Abroad), FS-545 (Certificate of birth issued by a foreign service post), or DS-1350 (Certification of Report of Birth). These are State Department documents.
- A Certificate of Citizenship (N-560 or N-561), issued by USCIS to individuals who derive U.S. citizenship through a parent.
- A Certificate of Naturalization (N-550 or N-570), issued by USCIS through a federal or state court, or through administrative naturalization after December 1990 to those who are individually naturalized.

Older versions of the Certificate of Citizenship and of the Certificate of Naturalization instruct the holder not to photocopy them. The

Example: citizenship not confirmed

Chavo is a U.S. citizen, but SSA doesn't confirm his citizenship status. Sarven Technical Institute asks him to submit documentation of his status. Chavo first submits a Social Security card, but Sarven explains that the card doesn't document his status because noncitizens can have Social Security cards. Chavo then brings in his U.S. passport. Sarven makes a copy of the passport for its files, and tells Chavo his citizenship has been documented. Sarven also advises Chavo to have the SSA correct its database, so that he won't have this problem again.

Social Security card and driver's license

A Social Security card or driver's license isn't acceptable for documenting citizenship or national status, since noncitizens and nonnationals can also have these forms of identification.
